HEALTH SYSTEMS INTERNATIONAL EXPANDS TECHNOLOGY INFRASTRUCTURE AND TECHNOLOGY APPLICATIONS THROUGH ACQUISITION OF @GLOBAL

Indianapolis, Indiana. - July 31, 2009- Health Systems International, a leading provider of outsourced medical cost management solutions to payors and healthcare provider networks around the world, today announced the acquisition of @Global. @Global has developed and supported best-in-class software solutions for workers' compensation, casualty insurance, claims administration, and medical cost management environments since 1996.

Russell W. Sherlock, CEO of HSI, said, "@Global makes an exceptional fit for HSI by not only enhancing the infrastructure of all HSI solutions but also providing additional software applications for clients to help them control medical cost."

"The expanded technology resource is fulfilling our vision to become the leading provider of medical cost management solutions." Sherlock continued.

"The @Global team is excited about joining the technology solutions division of HSI," commented @Global President, Steve Graham, "The combination of @Global and HSI resources represents a highly strategic offering of software assets, customer service capabilities, and vendor relationships. @Global's experience and expertise will be leveraged to expand and enhance HSI solutions in all markets, and HSI resources will allow us to offer complete, fully integrated medical cost management solutions to current @Global clients."

Steve Graham will join the HSI Executive team in a dual role as HSI Chief Technology Officer for all HSI Divisions as well as President of the HSI Technology Solutions Division.
